

Toys/Teddy/Comforts Policy

We are happy to accept any teddy or comforts during the first three months of settling with us or any new transition if you inform us, unless lost this needs to be the same item so that we also can identify and responsibly return it to whoever it belongs to.

Special toys/teddies and comforts can cause a distraction during the day as the children don't often want to share what they have brought in. They have also been lost and found in places that we'd never think of during the day and it is also hard to keep up with who has brought in what, which can then result in some items not being returned to families at the end of each day.
